FOR IMMEDIATE PRESS RELEASE

TAKE SOLUTIONS, APPLIED CLINICAL INTELLIGENCE, AND ONSPHERE
MERGE TO CREATE
TAKE SOLUTIONS, GLOBAL LIFE SCIENCES AND THE ONECLINICAL™ BRAND

*OneClinical™ Provides a Full Spectrum of Software
Products and Services for the Regulated Life Sciences Industry*

Princeton, NJ – June 12, 2006 — Today TAKE Solutions, Inc. announced the formation of the OneClinical™ brand of life sciences offerings as part of its merger with Applied Clinical Intelligence (Philadelphia, PA) and OnSphere Corporation (Raleigh, NC). OneClinical combines a full spectrum of proven data and document management software products and services for clinical trials, drug and device development lifecycles.

“Our in-depth understanding of the clinical development process combined with knowledge of real world medicine allows us to overcome the challenges of collecting quality data in a highly stringent regulatory environment – positioning TAKE Solutions as a true powerhouse in the global life sciences marketplace” stated Ram Yeleswarapu, President & CEO of TAKE Solutions, Inc. He continued, “By bringing Applied Clinical Intelligence (ACI) and OnSphere into our team, we dramatically expand our depth of clinical data management, document management, and Microsoft technology expertise. Both ACI and OnSphere have a long track record of successfully delivering quality life sciences solutions to their customers.”

ACI brings proven clinical and safety data integration, CDISC Data Standards capabilities, and Data Management services to the company. ACI’s services also include Statistical Analysis and Reporting, comprehensive Data Monitoring Committee services, and Risk Management – all providing increased operational efficiency, increased regulatory compliance, decreased risk profile, and unparalleled value in the life sciences industry.

“The merger of TAKE Solutions, ACI, and OnSphere enhances our ability to help our clients improve efficiencies in drug and medical device development and product safety. We can now offer our clients global scalability as well as a robust suite of regulatory-compliant process efficiency software” said Dr. Jonathan Seltzer, President, ACI & Chief Medical Officer, TAKE Solutions Global Life Sciences.

OnSphere brings to the OneClinical union an FDA-compliant, easy to use and affordable Document Management Software Suite, PharmaReady™, developed under Microsoft-based .NET architecture. The web-based PharmaReady product suite includes Document Management (DMS), Training Records Management (TRMS), Structured Product Labeling (SPL), and Electronic Common Technical Document publishing (eCTD).

“The coupling of FDA-compliant document management technologies with rich clinical and data management experience provides the foundation for our success” stated Robert MacDougall, Executive Vice President of TAKE Solutions. He continued, “Our clinical data and document management expertise, coupled with more than 25 years experience in technology solutions, uniquely positions OneClinical as the single source for clinical intelligence and regulatory-compliant solutions.”

TAKE Solutions, founded in 2000, is a privately-held, industry-focused business software and services company dedicated to delivering world-class solutions in the Life Sciences and Supply Chain Management verticals throughout global markets. Funded by the Shriram Group, TAKE has its international headquarters in India with U.S. offices in Princeton, NJ, Research Triangle Park, NC and Philadelphia, PA. International offices include: Singapore, Muscat, Sri Lanka and Malaysia. Since its inception, TAKE has made impressive strides in providing solutions worldwide and has received global honors.

Applied Clinical Intelligence was founded in 2001 to provide data-driven solutions for clinical trials and risk management programs. ACI is a specialized clinical services group offering strategic, operational, and technical intelligence. ACI's team of seasoned clinical and regulatory professionals combines the advantages of extensive clinical development experience with a comprehensive understanding of real-world medicine.

OnSphere Corporation, founded in 1988, is a leader in regulatory compliant web-based Pharma solutions. OnSphere's PharmaReady suite has been recognized as a global standard in regulatory compliant solutions for pharmaceutical, biotechnology, and clinical research organizations. OnSphere was first recognized as a Microsoft Gold Partner in 1997, and has achieved the honor every year since.
